

GeoMaps

LandMagic GeoMaps is a geospatial tool that gives new definition to GeoData on the farm.

What is GeoMaps?

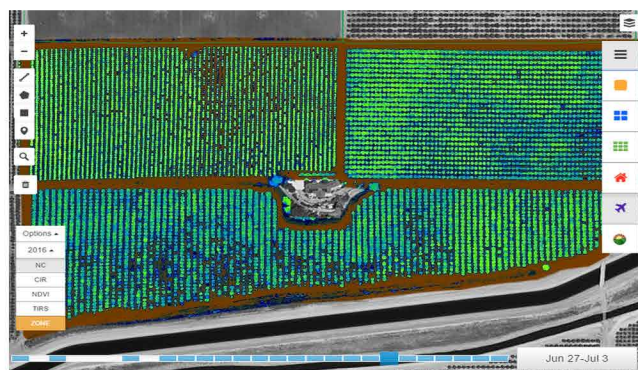

GeoMaps is a land management tool that shows key assets and activities of their property. Get a bird's eye view of land areas, blocks and parcels as well as transaction data all on one location, displayed on a map. It's a must have for the tool bag!

How Can Imagery Help?

- Crop Scouting – Rather than make lengthy drives of the entire property to find problem areas, growers can see in a short time the areas that might need attention.
- Irrigation Inspection – This very time-consuming task can be done with Planes, Drones, or Satellites that provide professional grade imagery with layers to see more precise problem areas.
- Pest Management – See pest problems from a map that could not be seen with strolling down the blocks. Overlaying the map with layers such as NDVI can show you where a pest problem may be to go out and ground-truth the issue.
- Crop Vigor – Determining the crops vigor by block/area involve NDVI images, thermal or stereoscopic images from sensors mounted on planes or drones, processing and evaluating the reasons for in-field variability

Actionable Aerial Imagery

GeoMaps allows you view imagery taken from planes, UAV's, or satellites and overlay with layers to see potential issues. Now you can subscribe to imagery service providers to centralize your data into one simple to use system.

This low cost service provides hi resolution, high frequency imagery flown over your land parcels and delivered overnight, allowing you to compare imagery to effectively identify issues and create corrective actions. It's actionable aerial imagery for agriculture and a way to better target your time to manage pests, irrigation, crop growth, harvesting, etc.

Imagery and Analytics

ProPak Software has teamed up with TerrAvion and Highlands Precision Ag to provide you with a new level of services. From weekly images and analytics of crops to virtual scouting reports, log books, etc.
